

SUPREME COURT HAS NEW PLEA FOR RATE BAR

Considering Second Petition for Injunction Filed by William Lemke

INSUFFICIENT HEARING?

New Grounds Are Taken in Plea After Railroad Commission Revises Its Order

The supreme court this afternoon has under consideration a new plea for injunction by William Lemke as special assistant attorney general, to prohibit increases in interstate freight and passenger rates being made effective Sept. 26, under the new order of the board of railroad commissioners.

Statements appearing in the Courier-News and other league newspapers to the effect that the supreme court enjoined the railroad rate increase late yesterday are known to be false by Lemke's new plea.

It was a coincidence that the supreme court formally published the injunction it granted last week about the same time that the board of railroad commissioners was issuing a new order granting the increases and avoiding the mistakes of record on which the first injunction was based.

Unless the supreme court grants the injunction Lemke asks the increased rates will be effective Sept. 26.

Lemke presented his petition late yesterday and the court continued discussion of it until a session today.

Lemke's new petition is based, in part, on grounds which the court did not consider in the previous injunction, although a part of Lemke's petition. This included the charge that sufficient notice had not been given shippers at the hearing Aug. 12 and that there was no real hearing because the shippers were not adequately represented.

Lemke is willing for the railroads to have a 35 percent increase, but wants it based on the statutory rate rather than the existing rate. This question was one of the chief matters of debate at the hearing on August 12 in the senate chambers, at which Lemke, though then a special assistant attorney-general by virtue of appointment by the Governor, was not present.

Neither was W. A. Anderson, secretary of the Industrial Commission, who now contends with Mr. Lemke that there was not a real hearing, though Mr. Anderson was notified in a special letter of the hearing. Neither was J. A. McGovern, of the state mill and elevator association present, though notified by special letter.

One of the unusual statements made in the affidavit of Frank Milhollan, member of the commission, in an affidavit accompanying Lemke's new petition, was that there was not a real hearing and the public was not represented. Milhollan, though a commissioner, and though he gave first public notice of the railroad petition for an increase, was not present at the hearing, except for the close. He had been in Washington, D. C. the week previous and failed to return in time.

Wants Situation Unchanged. Lemke asked the restraining order be granted so that the matter would remain in status quo until October 16, when the commission has announced, it will hear all appeals and protests against its order, which is still held open for the purpose of removing discriminations in rates or other adjustments.

Though Lemke was not at the first hearing, notice of which was published in his newspaper and others, it is expected that he will make a play at the hearing, Oct. 16.

CLOTHING PRICE CUT IS TO COME, DEALERS ASSERT

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Clothing prices are due to tumble, delegates to the Retail Clothier's association convention here declared. Prices next spring will be nearly 33 per cent lower, according to Fred Bolland of Topeka, Kan., national director of the association. The public has made reduction necessary by its refusal to pay high prices, dealers said.

CUT 50 PER CENT

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Recent price reductions of from 20 to 25 per cent announced by textile manufacturers will be reflected in the price of men's clothing next spring, Eli Strouse, president of the National Clothing Manufacturers' association, declared at the association's convention.

Mr. Strouse added that men's clothing prices cannot go down more quickly than the high cost of labor and materials and that people must remember that the cost of textiles is not the only factor entering into the clothing price.

SUGAR AGAIN OFF Chicago, Sept. 23.—Two of the largest mail order houses followed the example of Henry Ford today by announcing cuts of from 10 to 20 per cent in many lines of merchandise. Food prices as a whole were not affected, although sugar was quoted at $17.95 a hundred pounds, and the representatives of one company predicted that it would drop to $10 or $12 after the canning season.

Shrub trees may be destroyed by gas leaking from mains, poisoning the roots and making it impossible for the tree to obtain nourishment from the ground.

An individual dressing tent for seashore bathers can be packed and carried in a suitcase.

BRAVED PERILS

San Francisco, Sept. 21.—After enough perils and adventures to fill a large book the Misses Frances (above) and Marion Smith (below), daughters of a St. Louis manufacturer, are safe here. The two girls were on a year's tour of the Orient when they were caught between the fighting factions of North and South China during a campaign against the Anfu forces. They escaped on the last train to leave Peking after being isolated in the city for some time when communication lines were cut off. They sailed from Shanghai here.

BISMARCK AUTO FULL OF BOOZE TAKEN AT MINOT

Authorities Alleged Car Belongs to George Gandy, of this City, and Get Out Warrant

George Gandy, of Bismarck, is alleged to be the owner of an automobile load of whiskey seized at Minot by Sheriff Scofield's department according to information received here. A story in the Minot News says:

"A warrant was issued for George Gandy, of Bismarck, as the owner of the automobile load of whiskey seized by Sheriff Scofield's department here early Monday morning. It was expected that Gandy would be apprehended in Bismarck. State Attorney Herigstad announces that the car and liquor taken here will be turned over to the federal authorities."

"Wesley Gandy, a brother of the Bismarck man and who makes Minot his headquarters, is under indictment, both state and federal, for carrying concealed weapons and also in connection with his arrest last spring near Bonnybrook while conveying a load of liquor with Ed Norris, also under bond awaiting trial, officials state."

"The Gandy case is only one of many in which the local and state officials have aided enforcement of the dry laws and also co-operated with the federal officials," Mr. Herigstad remarked today. "They have turned over much more illicit liquor here to U. S. officials than the latter have themselves seized in this region. The various officials work together in effective harmony."

The warrant for Gandy was sent to Bismarck, but it was understood he had given bond to Minot authorities.

BOY KILLED IN CEMETERY WHILE MOTHER IS DECORATING A GRAVE

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Flowers carried by a mother to decorate the grave of one son today were resting on the coffin of a second son whose life was crushed out yesterday when a tombstone fell on him when he was examining an image on the top of it.

While Mrs. Mary O. Borovicka was decorating the grave of the first son in a cemetery at Norwood park, a tombstone, the other boy, aged 2, wandered to a nearby grave. The marble image of an angel at the top of a tombstone attracted the boy. He sought a closer view and climbed to see. His weight toppled over the huge stone, and he was caught beneath it.

DYNAMITE WITH FUSES BURNING FOUND IN N. Y.

Patrolman Puts Out Burning Fuse on Elevated Station Averting Explosion

MAY BE PLOT LINK

Officials May Be Able to Trace Horse Which Drew Death Wagon

New York, Sept. 23.—While investigators were still seeking to solve the mystery of the Wall street explosion a week ago, police headquarters announced a package containing dynamite had been found on the platform of the Reed elevated station in Brooklyn. At the same time announcement came from police headquarters that a tag found in Wall street near the death cart had been identified as one issued by the health department in 1915 to the Reed ice cream company, of Brooklyn, certifying that the horse was not afflicted with glanders. Detectives left immediately to question company officials as to whether the horse had been sold within the last two years.

The bureau of combustibles at police headquarters announced that the dynamite was a bomb with fuses attached and fuses burning when a patrolman found it and put it out.

Detectives took the bomb to bureau headquarters.

Stamps Out Fuse The bomb was in the form of a cardboard cylinder and contained no caps, the board of combustibles announced later, but dynamite in considerable quantity.

Patrolman Swantelli, who found the bomb, put out the fuse, he said, by stamping on it. Then he soaked it in a pail of water. It was nine inches long with an eight inch fuse that had burned half way down, he said.

New York, Sept. 23.—After one week of investigation of the explosion that spread death and terror in Wall street last Thursday officials today still groped for light that might lead to a solution.

Literally scores of clues, stories and rumors have been sifted by operatives of the department of justice and local authorities without result.

Despite the varied stories, however, William J. Flynn, chief of the department of justice agents, was as positive as ever that the tragedy was the result of a pre-arranged plot of anarchists. He characterizes as "plain blank" renewed stories that it was accidental and predicted that those responsible would ultimately be brought to justice.

"It was a criminal outrage," he declared. "We are positive of that, and we are going ahead on that theory."

The basic principle of his invention provides for the detonation of successive charges of explosive within the rocket, thus renewing its momentum at regular intervals.

'BIG BIZ' PLAN OF LEAGUE MEN; STEP RIGHT UP

Chance to Get Stock in $2,000,000 Corporation Going to Lot of Things

NO PIKERS, THESE BOYS

Great Big Store Organization, Importers as Well as Exporters, is Planned

Another stock selling effort on "big biz" scale may soon be under way by leaders of the Nonpartisan league.

Efforts now are being made to incorporate the "Consumers Cooperative" for $2,000,000, divided into 20,000 shares of stock at par value of $100,000 each.

The leaders in the movement are men identified now or in the past with the Consumers Stores, started by Nonpartisan league organizers and which became notorious through the state for the clever stock arrangements which gave the organizers an opportunity to pile up big money.

It is understood that the new $2,000,000 corporation will take over the present Consumers Stores company. Whether the old organization will be taken over and given 51 percent of the stock is not known. If this should be done there would still be nearly a billion dollars worth of stock to sell farmers and others.

COX IN WRECK

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 23.—Governor Cox's presidential campaign train was wrecked about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon 14 miles north of here while en route to Prescott, Arizona.

The Democratic presidential candidate and his party were badly shaken up when an engine and four cars of the special train were ditched, but all escaped injury. The most seriously injured was Charles A. Nichols, engineer of Prescott, who had a leg broken.

Spreading rails were assigned as the cause. The train of six cars was drawn by two heavy engines needed for the upgrade to Prescott.

The four forward cars were ditched, the governor's private car, the Federal, at the rear, and the adjoining compartment car of newspaper men, except for its forward truck, remaining on the rails.

Governor Cox was in the dining room of his private car going over papers when the crash occurred.

"What's that?" he shouted, rising to his feet only to be thrown heavily across the car into steel wall. He was shaken up, but rushed out to assist the injured and soon was nonchalantly viewing the wreckage, smoking his pipe and waiting for a wrecking train to arrive and take him back to Phoenix.

FIRST DAY OF FALL WITH US, EXPERTS TELL

Equinox was at 2:29 a. m. Today, and Fall Season Starts Two Days Late

HEAVY RAINS IN STATE

This is the first day of fall—or first part day.

It became fall at 2:29 a. m., experts say. By all accepted standards Sept. 21 is summer's last day. But this year the equinox was due at 2:29 a. m. central time.

There's been quite a lot of debate among experts on the question. Weather bureau officials, for their purposes, consider September as a full month, and decision was refused on the point.

The equinox is a time for storms, according to legend. The weather bureau reports don't show this, however. The equinox is, the dictionary says:

"The time when the sun's center in crossing the equator coincides with either of the equinoctial points, that is, about Sept. 22 or 23."

The weather bureau here did forecast probably showers tonight and Friday, but no storms or colder weather is in sight.

There was rain in many places in the state in the last 24 hours, weather bureau reports today showed. At Lakota there was two and one-half inches of rainfall. Other amounts reported were: Napoleon, 10; Langdon, 47; Pembina, 20; Arena, 20; Lisbon, 12; Grand Forks, 35; Moorhead, 15; Devils Lake, 18.

BOOSTER TOUR AIRPLANE HITS HOLE; WRECKED

Accident While Landing at Wilton Forces Lieut. Ely's Machine Out of Party

TOUR GETS FINE START

Baldwin School Children Welcome Visitors and Wilton Business Men Greet Them

(By Staff Correspondent) Wilton, Sept. 23.—Lieutenant Newell Ely's airplane came to grief with the Bismarck Booster tour while trying to make a landing in Wilton just before 11 o'clock.

The plane had been battling high winds and had circled the Wilton baseball field to make a landing. As the machine traveled over the ground after landing one of the wheels hit a hole, tipping the machine and turning it upside down.

MAKE GOOD START

The propeller of the airplane was broken and one wing was damaged. The occupants, Lieut. Ely, William Dahlheimer and Fred Holmboe were not hurt. The tour was continued with the airplane.

Thrilled Crowds

Before the accident Lieut. Ely had thrilled the Bismarck Boosters and other residents of Baldwin, and Wilton with some hair-raising stunts in the air. Some of the uninitiated in the party thought he was coming down on the auto caravan when he made a dive, but the machine glided off in beautiful manner. The accident which put the machine out of the tour was such as frequently happens to machines, even on good landing fields, and is an argument for the establishment of smooth landing fields near North Dakota cities as air travel grows.

The tourists pulled out of Bismarck late, with 21 cars and about 80 people. The sun came out brightly and the roads were good. The trip to Baldwin—the first stop—made in fine time. At Baldwin the principal of the school lined up the school children, who gave the boosters a welcome and gave a couple of yells for Bismarck. The tourists distributed presents to the children.

Farmers Greet Them

At both Baldwin and Wilton business men gave the tourists a hearty greeting and there were many farmers in town to shake hands. Because the tour was behind schedule lunch was eaten at Wilton, the Washburn Lignite Coal company entertaining the visitors at the company hotel.

John Bortel and a Mandan member of the party organized a clown band, which promised to be a feature of the tour. The organization of the tour was the best of the tours held this season.

The Bismarck Boosters got away to a flying start this morning. With a score of cars in line, the band in fine fettle, and an airplane motor drumming and horns honking the boosters started on their two-day tour which will touch 16 towns along the North Slope.

The cars lined up at Fourth and Broadway, and there were more in line than on the two previous tours of the season. The boosters carried folders to be distributed on the tour, handbills advertising the dances to be given in McClusky tonight and Washburn tomorrow night, confetti and balloons to be distributed to the children in the various towns.

Tour Systemized

All cars were numbered, signs neatly painted by F. H. Hurley marked the cars and every man on the tour wore a badge identifying him. The tour was arranged in a systematic manner. Certain men were designated by Phil Meyer, president of the Town Officers club, to distribute folders at each stop and take care of other publicity matter; a "glad hand squad" was charged with the duty of covering both sides of the streets in every town shaking hands; street parades were arranged for McClusky tonight and Washburn tomorrow night. C. L. Young, president of the Commercial club, and P. R. Fields, director-general of the tour, were to make short talks along on road and express Bismarck's desire for the closest co-operation with her neighbors.

TWO MURDERED MEN FOUND ON N. DAK. FARM

Beaten Over Heads and Then Shot, Men Discovered in Stubble-field Near Rolla

AUTO ROBBERY MOTIVE?

Rolla, N. D., Sept. 22.—The bodies of two unidentified men, evidently murdered by being beaten over the heads with a hammer and then shot in the back with a pistol, were discovered in a stubble field about 9 miles east of here Monday noon.

The find was made by Henry Carlson, a farmer boy of 18.

The county coroner of Towner county was summoned and inquest held on the spot, the verdict being that death was due to violence. The men had evidently been dead less than 24 hours as one man's watch was still running. A pistol case and a bloody hammer was found. Automobile tracks turning in the road at this point together with the fact that an air gauge gun was found in the pocket of one of the men indicated that automobile theft was a motive for the robbery.

The men were both about 30 years old and fairly well dressed.

FIFTEEN YEAR OLD SPIRITWOOD YOUTH INSTANTLY KILLED

Jamestown, Sept. 22.—Earl Gordon, the fifteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gordon of Spiritwood was almost instantly killed about eleven o'clock today when his clothing caught on a rapidly revolving shaft at the Spiritwood Equity elevator. The boy had been working around the elevator and was alone at the time of the accident. The shaft on which the youth's clothing caught runs through the wall of the elevator and sticks several feet outside of the building. The shaft is, according to County Coroner DeRuy, who was called out to Spiritwood to investigate the boy's death, perfectly smooth but in some way the boy's clothing caught on it and he was whirled around the shaft a number of times. The shaft is about two and a half feet from the ground and whirling so rapidly that the boy's body dug a hole in the ground several inches deep before the motor could be shut off. Several bones were broken and the body badly bruised and cut up.

RED RIVER ROAD CONDITIONS BAD

Road conditions in North Dakota are now in good condition generally, except in the Red River valley and the Devils Lake district, where heavy to excessive rains fell Saturday night, says a bulletin on road conditions issued to the local weather bureau. On the Red Trail there is a detour from Spiritwood to Jamestown, which is now in fairly good shape.

OVERLAND CLIMBS HIGHEST MOUNTAIN EAST OF ROCKIES

The Overland on Triplex Springs which has been establishing records of stamina and economy new to the motoring world in all parts of the country has scored again by mounting to the very tip of Mt. Washington in New Hampshire. No other car has climbed the entire 6,293 feet of the North's highest peak east of the Rockies. A few other cars have climbed the trail to the official summit for vehicles; but Overland went higher.

The car that made this ascent to the peak was driven by Ralph Gleason of the Connell-McKone Company, Willys-Overland distributors at Boston. Mr. Gleason drove the car to the Tip-Top House while Mrs. Clark, hostess of the Tip-Top House, looked on. Mr. Gleason drove the Overland up the steps of the hotel, adding a few additional feet to the height of the climb. Some ideas of the grades encountered may be gathered from the fact that on the downward trip the grades were so steep that the braking power of the motor as well as the emergency anti-foot brakes were required to make the descent in safety.

Before beginning the climb, the Overland traveled on a test trip 49½ miles on 17 gallons of gasoline, an average of 29 miles to the gallon.

Triplex springs protected the car from the jolts and shocks of the difficult road and Mr. Gleason and his passengers suffered no discomfort from the climb.

Gasoline to Help Lower Food Prices

"Of all gasoline manufactured in the United States 67.6% is used by automotive vehicles." (Oil News, Sept. 5, 1920, page 42.)

"Of all the motor vehicles in use in the Middle West, 65% of the total registration are farmer-owned." (Arthur Capper Address, 1920.) Gasoline is taking the place of vanishing man-power on the farms; and not only does it reduce the man-hours required to produce a given amount of food, but it also reduces the actual cost of production, and this despite the advancing price of gasoline. (H. W. Quaintance "Influence of Farm Machinery on Production," Power Wagon Reference Book 1920, page 561.)

Authorities agree that gasoline is a most important factor in the production and distribution of food products.

When gasoline is employed universally to increase the efficiency of man-power on the farm, we may look for vastly increased production and a consequent decrease in the cost of producing food.

In the eleven Middle West states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) more than 100,000 tractors are in use, and the number is increasing rapidly.

In the states served by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the number of farmer-owned motor trucks is as follows:

Kansas	1,732
Iowa	2,773
Illinois	2,261
Indiana	1,548
North Dakota	501
South Dakota	1,708
Michigan	1,436
Minnesota	1,255
Missouri	2,065
Wisconsin	1,465
Oklahoma	723
Total	17,667

(U. S. Department of Agriculture states that only about 75% of total farmer ownership was reported.)

The distribution service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) brings petroleum products quickly and cheaply to the farm when they are most needed.

It is the plan of this Company to make its distribution facilities the most perfect system of its kind in the world. To do this, largely increased equipment is being installed. To supply this vast network of stations, trucks, tank wagons, etc., the Manufacturing Department is bending its energies to devise means for producing an ever increasing percentage of gasoline from the crude oil obtainable, and at the same time to keep users of other products of petroleum supplied with their needs.

The Motor of Monarchs and the Monarch of Motors

Their Majesties the King of England and the King of Spain use the Silent Knight Motor.

We mention this not as a tribute to Royalty, but as Royalty's tribute to quality!

They chose it because it is a motor that will not falter in the performance of its duty, and, perhaps, because it preserves the ancient tradition of flunkeyism, by being eternally at beck and call!

The Knight Motor has no valves to grind, service but adds to its efficiency and power, and like a fine violin whose quality improves with age, the longer you use it the better it performs.

Yourself as a Business

A business is not a success unless it pays a profit. That is a basic principle.

The same sound principle applies to your personal finances. Your outgoes must be held below your income. The margin is your profit—to be reinvested in your future.

A growing bank account is a gauge of your ability to pay a profit—to produce more than you spend.

Start building up that surplus today—and keep it growing. Make this bank your official depository.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—Three republican women of national reputation have been lent to Minnesota for the intensive campaign among women voters of the state. It was announced today. Mrs. Douglas Robinson and Mrs. Raymond Robins will arrive soon; Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago, already is in Minnesota on a short campaign tour. She spoke in Duluth yesterday at a large gathering of women, and today is in Hibbing and Virginia, closing her series of speeches.

Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the National Woman's Trade Union League, who is to be in the city all day Friday, is to speak in the Auditorium at 8 p. m. Arrangements are being made for her to address several groups of women in industries during the day.

Mrs. W. W. Remington, president of the Minneapolis Republican Women's club, was to return late today from Oklahoma, where she has been a member of the national "women's flying squadron."

Today two information bureaus for women voters were opened by the republican women, one in the G. O. P. teahouse, 34 Ninth st. S., and the other in the county republican headquarters for women, 303 Meyers arcade.

Speakers at the G. O. P. teahouse Saturday, the first Teachers' day, will be Mrs. Alice Warrington and Mrs. Elizabeth Hall. Judge C. E. Dickinson was to speak today at the shop, and Judge J. W. Molyneux tomorrow at noon.

HUGHES AGAINST N. Y. SOCIALIST OUSTER ACTION
New York, Sept. 23.—While Socialist leaders were conferring on the next step to obtain representation of the party in the New York assembly, Charles E. Hughes, head of the bar association committee, which opposed the ouster for the Socialist delegation last winter, issued a statement condemning the second unseating.

"The ouster of the socialist members of the assembly is an act of incredible folly and is in flagrant disregard of the fundamental principles of American institutions," said Mr. Hughes.

"I am opposed to socialism and it is because I wish to see our institutions preserved that I take this action."

"It is the more flagrant because these members of the assembly had just been re-elected in accordance with our laws and at a fair election, and because, so far as provisions of the constitution of the socialist party gave any pretext for the previous ouster, these had been removed."

"The statement of Assemblyman Martin, chairman of the judiciary committee, puts the matter very clearly. He says:

"There was no charge against any of them personally as individuals. No personal guilt was charged against them. Since then their organization has complied with our constitution and our laws. We have no right to exclude them."

MINING TO BE RESUMED SOON

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 23.—Complete resumption of mining in the anthracite region by Monday after a curtailment of production that amounted to about 70 per cent was assured today when the 8,000 striking miners of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Pittston voted to return to work next week.

OLD BATTLE LINES
Evidences of War Trick in Vicinity of Ypres.

Shell Holes Beginning to Grow Green, but Battered Tanks Are Everywhere in Evidence on the Scenes of Slaughter.

Leaving Zebrugge the first day's journey by motor takes the visitor something more than a hundred miles, with Ypres as the turning point and every variety of war-stricken lands and recovering countryside on the way there and back. It was a point mooted with wearisome frequency in the real days of the place—when it was "functioning," as one would have said—and among front-line troops in the salient, whether they would ever come to come back and see that foul place under a peaceful aspect. Agreed, there were those at home who might be taken, not without profit to themselves and the world in general, over the low ground under Kennel, or where Passchendaele looked down on the swamps, and there were not a few of the armchair gentry whose instant presence would have been welcomed. But, for himself, it was the common verdict of the man in the mudhole that, once out of it, Wipers and he could be the best of friends.

Manchester Guardian.
Kidding into the place from which rises the battered tower of the Cloth hall, in the high day and under a burning sun; coming, too, unscathed and unafraid from what was unmistakably the direction of "No Man's Land," one had to question such a verdict, and finally, under the stimulation of a hundred quickening memories, allow the appeal. For the interest of Ypres and of all the ground in front of it would not be denied. The place was like itself—in a degree hard to credit. And if only some minute had been there to reproduce the shrill crescendo of an approaching shell one would undoubtedly have taken cover. Going out by the way of the Menin gate and turning up into the high road to Poelcapelle, with first Hooge and then St. Julien, with Passchendaele rolling up to the skyline as a background, is to pass into the field of an endless battle from which nothing has been cleared but the dead; and though elsewhere something has already been done of that "concentration" of graves which is to give our dead an orderly and lasting memorial, they still lie here, for the most part in the scattered, resting places to which the hurried hands of their comrades consigned them.

The shell holes begin to grow green, but it is only a beginning, and if the trenches are almost unseen as one goes down the road, were they ever very clearly defined here? It is a long time before a place is reached from which no battered tanks can be seen, and now and again they stand three or four deep on the very edge of the road—ditched in their first attempt at the mud. To look back on war at its worst, with almost all its evidences but present slaughter, one could scarcely better the viewpoint of this road. A few miles farther, and the murdered forest of Houthuist, with its acres of stricken trees and not a live one, gives a new edge to terror.

There is something sound in the notion that one can see the battle fields in a day; the repetition would give no new tone, but intensify the same impression. As a lesson Ypres and its province could not be surpassed. Coming out at Dixmude, behind what was an almost permanent beach line, the car returning to Zebrugge comes again into a country which is alive. For the hinterland of Belgium has returned quickly to itself. The army huts which serve in the broken areas as shelter for those who have returned to the shattered villages, give place here to cottages almost substantially repaired, and the frequent cultivation of the soil goes forward with all energy and resourcefulness typical of no class in the world so much as the Belgian or French peasantry.

Birds and Their Nests.
The robin is one of the best nest builders. Robins prefer trees not too heavily foliaged, like an apple tree. At times the robin will build her nest in a gateway or beneath the eaves of a house where there is a solid foundation. But as a general proposition it is in a tree of fairly good size. It is built of straw and grass and string and mud and is solid and heavy. A robin's nest may be exposed to the weather for five or six years and not go to pieces, but it is never used but once. A few birds use a second-hand nest, but when they do so they clean it out and patch it up with new material. The oriole uses one nest year after year, but always improves it by putting in new material and sealing it so that it is tied with stout strings to the limb from which it is suspended.—Exchange.

Is a Hathbox a Passenger?
Papa's Spanish blood was fired because the English woman was sleeping in the diminutive railway compartment. First he tossed a lighted match near the head of the sleeping woman, then he demanded that she sit up so that his daughters and their hathboxes could be properly accommodated. Arthur Stanley Riggs, who describes this adventure in "Going to Leon" in Travel magazine, was growing more and more indignant, and indicated that hathboxes do not belong in seats. Then, papa became a miniature Vesuvius in full eruption. He turned to his pretty daughter, with an eye full of cholera, and cried: "Sit on her then! Sit on her, my daughter!"

She Used to Be His "Darling," But Now He Calls Her His "Cave Woman"

Chicago, Sept. 17.—She used to be his "darling," his "dear," and his "angel child," and her neck, to him was a "darling little neck." And, besides all that, a certain stalwart office building, pictured in one of his love notes, could never "hold the amount of love" he had for her.

It was a sweet "life's young dream" bubble—but it burst.

And now he calls her his "cave woman."

Sues for $100,000
A Chicago judge will hear the story of Mrs. Ruth Turner Martin and James Wright Martin, Jr. The "cave woman," abas "angel child," has sued Martin for $100,000 breach of promise following Martin's recent suit for annulment of a marriage ceremony performed at Crown Point, in January, 1920, six months after Ruth Turner divorced from Harry S. Bishop.

Martin insists that Mrs. Martin pursued him and entreated to consummate it if he did not marry her, whereupon he did marry her before a year from her divorce had passed.

She makes the same claim, saying that he forced the illegal marriage. In one of his love notes, Martin wrote, "I'll be your little angel child." Another reads: "Until Niagara Falls."

"Angel Child," instead of writing you with my enchanted pencil, I am using a scratching pen. However, that does not have anything to do with how much I love you which, of course, is more than this (arrow) saunders down to the structure here) building could hold.

Mrs. Martin is the daughter of the late Colonel Henry Bathrop Turner. As a slight ray of hope, Mrs. Martin's attorney says her suit need not end in the payment of $100,000. "A marriage ceremony will just about fix it up," said he. "Mrs. Martin does not want money, she wants James, Jr."

MURIEL FLOREN IS BRIDE AT PRETTY WEDDING

St. George's Episcopal church was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock when the vows were spoken which united Muriel Elaine Floren, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Floren, of Person Court, and Luigi De Liguori, of Providence, R. I.

After a background for the ring ceremony which was beautifully read by the Rev. Charles H. Brown, of Mandan, N. D., before only the bride's family and several intimate friends. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father wore her traveling gown of midnight blue tulle with collar of real Irish lace. Her hat was a small black velvet model with embroidery. She carried a large bunch of her favorite flowers, American Beauty roses while her attendant, Miss Eleanor Gustafson, wore a corsage of pink sweet peas. Her dress was fashioned of black tulle, and her hat was of brown duvetyne. Albert Sheets served the groom as best man. Out of town guests were H. E. Davis, of Fargo.

Following the ceremony, the bride party repaired to the McKenzie hotel where the bridal dinner was served in a private dining room. Mr. and Mrs. De Liguori left on the late train for the coast where they will spend their wedding trip. They will stop here at Thanksgiving time to visit with the bride's parents before leaving for Providence, where they will spend the holidays.

Mrs. Liguori is very well known in Bismarck as she attended high school here and was graduated in 1916. She is one of the most talented musicians in the city, and has always been interested in musical activities. She served as organist at St. George's Episcopal church while she went to high school. The past four years she has been in attendance at the University of Minnesota where she took the music course at that institution. While at college, she held a prominent part in musical circles there. She has a host of friends in the capital city who have loved her since that time. It is thought that although they join in extending their best wishes, they regret to have her leave Bismarck.

Mr. Liguori is now in the treasury department of the Chalmers-Maxwell Automobile Co. and travels for them now extensively. He was at one time vice-consul to China.

BEAUTIFUL EDNA COMING

Edna Goodrich in "Sleeping Partners"

Beautiful Edna Goodrich in the gay French farce "Sleeping Partners" will be the attraction at the Auditorium Saturday night.

"Sleeping Partners" is from the pen of Sacha Guitry, who is said to be one of the most daring writers for the Parisian stage. It was translated by Seymour Hicks, who produced it in London where it ran for over a year; it was then produced at the Bijou Theatre New York, where it enjoyed a run of over seven months.

Miss Goodrich, who is known as the best dressed woman on the American stage, has a good opportunity in "Sleeping Partners" to wear some stunningly handsome gowns, all said to be creations of Lady Duff Gordon. In the second act of "Sleeping Partners" one cannot suppress a gasp of admiration as Miss Goodrich appears on the stage. She enters with a gorgeous royal ermine coat snugly about her. This coat was made especially for Miss Goodrich at a cost of over ten thousand dollars. It is made of the finest pure white ermine in a lovely dolman cape effect, which falls to the bottom of her gown. The beautiful large collar is trimmed with the tails of ermine, which are also found on the cuffs. It is lined with a beautiful satin of light blue and silver. When she throws aside her coat she reveals an evening gown of luxuriant beauty and richness. One of her favorite gowns is jade colored chiffon velvet with tight bodice and the wider effect at the hips. The wide appearance is given the gown by the wide panel of bright green brocade satin with a daring touch of ermine. The panel unlike the panels of last season is draped diagonally from the hip to the bottom of the skirt at the opposite side and up the back of the skirt to meet over the same hip. Only the Parisienne can wear such a daring combination of rich colors. With this wonderful gown Miss Goodrich usually wears a beautiful diamond "dog collar" composed of four ropes of large diamonds and with this a string of pearls.

Miss Goodrich is said to have a large collection of pearls, diamonds and rubies worthy of a Princess.

The attendance in the grade schools this year is as follows: William Moore school, 309; high school grades, 73; Will school, 457, and Wachter school, 137, making a total of 976.

The largest freshman class in the history of the high school is registered this year. It comprises 110 members. The senior class has 55 members, an increase of 8, over last year's graduating class of 47.

ATTENDANCE IN SCHOOLS LARGEST IN ITS HISTORY

One thousand two hundred eighty-two students are in attendance in the Bismarck public schools now. With 306 students enrolled in the high school, the increase over last year's attendance there is placed at 240. According to Supt. J. M. Martin, the crowded conditions are almost intolerable. They will be alleviated, however, when the Richolt school reaches completion.

The Finest Pie Crust Is Easy To Make—Can You Make It?

SOME people say that the making of flaky, delicate and easily digested pie crust "is an art."

Perhaps it used to be. Today even the inexperienced girl can make the finest pie crust.

Only two things are necessary. A good recipe—which is given here. And Mazola—which is sold by all grocers.

Mazola makes delicate, flaky and easily digested pie crust because it is an absolutely pure, vegetable oil—from an edible source.

Wherever you find cooks making really good pie crust, you will find Mazola.

And once you try Mazola you will never go back to lard and compounds.

PIE CRUST

1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon Baking Powder
1/2 cup Mazola
4 tablespoonsful Cold Water

Sift dry ingredients. Add water to Mazola and beat until creamy. Mix quickly into dry ingredients. Toss onto slightly floured board and roll to desired thickness. This recipe makes one double pie crust.

LEMKE'S TRAITOR'S LIST
Comrade Bill has branded Dupuis and Aandahl:
On page one of Bill Lemke's Courier-News is the black proscription.
The traitor list is growing:
DUPUIS
AANDAH

These names have been removed from the red service flag of the Townley-Lemke soviet-not even the shadow of a letter remains. So completely have their names been obliterated by the righteous and militant hand of Comrade "Bill."

Mr. Lemke in his Fargo personal organ tells the members of the league why these men are no longer fit to stand among the elect utopians who have the fate of the New Day in hollow of their hands.
"It is true," writes Lemke, "these commissioners were elected by the nonpartisan league. They are not the first to go wrong. Probably they will not be the last. The influence of one kind and another that big business is able to bring to bear, test men as by fire. The weaklings succumb. And there are always weaklings in the nonpartisan league as in every other movement."

Since William Lemke removed his name from the masthead of the Courier-News, his paper is getting more enthusiastic over "Bill." After writing down Dupuis and Aandahl as the tools of Big Biz, the spot light is turned upon the spotless "Bill" of whom the Courier-News writes:
"But the league will not give over the fight because these two commissioners have gone over to the enemy. William Lemke, the league candidate for attorney general will continue the battle he has so splendidly begun."

One by one the list of traitors, grows and grows, like the five little peppers until perchance there will be only two or three honest men left in the state: Townley-Lemke-Frazier.
How the list has grown: Call the roll "Bill!"

LANGER
HALL
KOSITZKY
DUPUIS
AANDAH

Then too we have "Bill's" word that these "probably will not be the last." His word is good with us on this matter-Bill ought to know.

Judging from the election results in Colorado, the Mormons must have followed the free love controversy in North Dakota.

FENCELESS LAWNS
At the newer, fashionable end of the avenue the lawns are unfenced. At the older end many lawns are protected by iron fences, relics of a fashion which reached its height about 1888.

These iron fences supplanted wooden picket fences. Those who sold the iron fences gave convincing reasons why iron was better than wood. For a long time it didn't occur to anyone that no fence is needed.

Others had fences. This had been so long as any remembered. So each felt that he also must have a fence across the front. Without stopping to figure it out, he assumed that a fence was as necessary as a roof.

The first man to eat a clam was a daring fellow. Then along came another with a venturesome, courageous heart. He put up no fence. He left his front yard open to the street, absolutely unprotected.

Others warned him against this. There was much grave shaking of heads, and dolorous predictions that disaster would overtake him. He would be sorry. Those who warned him were prepared to say "We told you!"

But nothing happened. He seemed to get along all right. Others observed this. Gradually they picked up courage to follow his example. Their number increased. Finally, some who had iron fences, purchased and erected at considerable cost, took them down. Now only a few are left.

No ordinary home builder erects a fence across the front of his lot thinking it needed. That is, in 1920. How many costly things that seem necessary today will be recognized as useless in 1930?

Senator Harding disposes of a much-misunderstood matter, when he said that in the enactment of the Cummings-Esch law, Congress gave a six months' guarantee in wages to employees just as it gave a six months' guarantee of returns to the owners.

ENEMY OF THE PEOPLE
The word revolution has many people cowed. Events in Russia are exerting a terrifying influence.
This has been curiously revealed by an attack on Robert Whittier, an actor-manager in New York, who has revived Ibsen's drama, "An Enemy of the People," in which he plays the principal role.

Two anti-revolutionary New Yorkers have just been fined ten dollars each in the police court because they gave Whittier a black eye and otherwise marked their disapproval of the play's denunciation of middle-class conservatism.

Mr. Whittier has received, also, anonymous letters and telephone calls threatening his life and calling him an agent of soviet Russia.

And yet, the poor actor's offense is no more than this: He takes the part of Dr. Stockmann, who has discovered that the medicinal baths which are making the fortune of his native Norwegian town have become polluted. When the doctor declares the baths must be repaired to prevent the spread of contamination, he is cheered by the people. But, when it becomes evident that the repairs will require an increased local tax rate for everybody to pay, he is reviled and called an enemy of the people.

Dr. Stockmann thereupon denounces the middle-class, the compact majority. He asserts the intellectual minority leads the van of progress, and is the only class which is always right. To this disturbing indictment, Stockmann adds a denunciation of the governing class, and says a revolution is necessary to give it brains. That is enough to make Stockmann a Bolshevik.

So, Two representative New Yorkers proved the genius of Ibsen as a dramatist of life by doing to Whittier in the flesh as nearly as they could what the compact majority did to Stockmann in the play. Thus, by an extraordinary irony of fate, Ibsen's drama written in 1882 as a plea for popular leadership to be drawn from an aristocracy of intellect, is now denounced as Bolshevik propaganda. If Ibsen were alive, he would say the attack on Mr. Whittier is abundant justification for the play.

Fifth Cousin Roosevelt says that "Maine doesn't count." But it did-and it was a bully count.

In one of his recent speeches in the west, Candidate Cox said: "Thank God, the women will vote this year." He had not heard from Maine.

EDITORIAL REVIEW
Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinions of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of the question which are being discussed in the press of the day.

MAINE
Have you heard the news from the Pine Tree State?
How Maine went Hell bent
For Governor Kent,
And Tippecanoe
And Tyler too?

This is not a Hard Cider or Log Cabin year, and yet a plurality estimated at more than 60,000 sets a new high water mark. The Maine Republicans are tired of counting the votes of the avalanche. Their wildest expectations have been more than realized.

"The November result is foreshadowed. A fitting rebuke is administered to the campaigners who began with a specious attempt to deceive the people concerning a moral issue, and have practically ended in a lame effort to win by slander. Will Gov. Cox have the effrontery to say that the electorate of Maine has been 'bought'?"-New York Tribune.

COUNTRY BOYS' DEFECTS
The country boy is off his form. We have this from a report made by the Committee on Recreation and Rural Health to the National Country Life Conference. The lad on the farm does not have the neuromuscular co-ordinator that he should. His work overdevelops the major fundamental muscles to the neglect of the accessory muscles. In the army the youths reared in the country were slow in learning to play. They were behind the city boys in forms of activity requiring the action of the whole body.

What's to be done about it? The committee recommends games which involve the free use of the entire body, which require precision of action and which employ the expression of the rhythmic instinct. Group games, organized athletics and folk dancing are remedies suggested.

But who is going to accomplish this reform? when the young farmhand has wound up a day's work in the hay field by milking eight cows and making things tidy for the night, who shall lure him or compel him to join in Swedish gymnastics to limber his accessory muscles? Who shall say, as the boy limps in to bed, that a jolly spree of folk dancing would make a new man of him? Who is to hold him up on the way from the barn to the house and ask him why he is letting his rhythmic instinct go to seed?

Maybe there is a lot in this discovery of the rural lad's lack of neuromuscular coordination. If there is, how many more prisoners would Alvin York have brought in on that historic occasion if he had been good and rhythmic instead of being a muscle bound rustic? A whole German division, we suppose.-New-York Sun

Washington, Sept. 23.-There's nothing to the story that one cannot quit a bad habit. The reason many persons fail to quit is because they fear they will miss some of the joy of life.

"I quit smoking (cigarettes) 10 years ago," said Colonel R. L. Foster, adjutant general's office, war department. "I had smoked about 55 the day before I swore I would never smoke another and I haven't and won't. Two years later I took the same pledge on drinking and I haven't taken a drink since. And say, I've had ten times as much fun since I quit as I ever had before. No tired feelings at the end of the day, no bad feelings of morning. It is the man who is a slave to a habit who misses the joy in life."

Colonel Foster is 50, but appears only 40.

"I feel 10 years younger than I did 10 years ago when I quit," said the colonel. The colonel was overseas and good all the hardships of war and came back strong.

"Please give the grass a chance." is a sign if K. Porter, 1600 1st street has on his lawn. No fence and the grass is doing fine. This appeared to be as being so much more courteous to the public than "Keep Off the Grass" that I asked Joseph Jenkins, a negro yard man who colored the sign. He said he did, that he considered the usual sign "Keep Off the Grass. This Means You," very foolish. Jenkins said his sign caused the people to feel a personal interest in not tramping on the grass, whereas a discourteous sign would offend them.

MOTORISTS' HAVENS THROUGHOUT NORTHWEST

"Roughing it" is the ambition of many a summer motor tourist. For such as feel the call of forest stillness, broken only by incident bird calls or splash of stream, Grant's Pass, Oregon, holds out camping enclosures. Grant's Pass authorities have cleaned up and placed at the disposal of motorists one of the prettiest places in that locality. No conveniences are furnished, but its native facilities make it ideal for regular campfires and real camping out.

Ashland, Oregon, has what is said to be the best motor park on the road between San Francisco and Portland. It is so popular that many motorists have stayed weeks instead of the originally intended night's stop. A kitchenette is provided, containing 16 individual gas stoves. A traveler is assigned to one of the stoves upon his arrival and uses that stove throughout his stay.

In Roseburg, Oregon, is a little park, easy of access, and entirely comfortable. Here a kitchenette provides for

POETS' CORNER

LIKES ARTICLES.
Glen Ullin, N. Dak., Sept. 21, 1920.
Editor Tribune:

I have been reading with much satisfaction the contributions from a "Farmer's Wife" in your columns about the non-partisan league. I have not seen any other contribution which has grasped so fully and expressed so clearly the inner workings of this movement than this writer.

The non-partisan league movement is a social movement having a psychological basis. The farmers felt they were being wronged and in many ways this is oftentimes too true. A bunch of socialist grafters caring for neither God nor man took advantage of the farmers' grievances and began to work their schemes at the psychological moment. We must lift our hats to their shrewdness. They raked in millions from the farmers and it came easier than to raise flax in western North Dakota. The state has been in a turmoil ever since. The farmer has paid his money and got his "We'll Stick" pin in return and he expected to get his money's worth. So he has stuck in patient expectation of something really constructive to come out of the thing. But instead of bread these same schemers are now handing him stones and laughing up their sleeves.

No wonder the farmer is at sea. It is hard for him to know whom to trust. For four long years has the gospel of hatred been spread over our beautiful prairies and it will take many times four years before the final effects will disappear. This is to me the saddest of the whole sad story.

No movement conceived in iniquity by schemers and dreamers will ever live. The corridors of past history are filled with the wreckage of innumerable such movements. It need not take much of a sociologist to assign the same fate to the nonpartisan league movement. Whatever it may have of good will some day be resurrected by sane, statesmanlike minds and the rubbish will be delegated to the limbo, the paradise of fools, such as the leaders of this movement have shown themselves to be. The sooner the people can choke the thing the better and for this reason it is to be hoped that the manhood and womanhood of North Dakota will rise in their might next November and say to those leaders, every one of them: "get thee behind me, Satan."

OLD EBENEZER.

"SINGING 'EM IN"

CAMPAIGN SONGS OF LONG AGO.
No. 6-"Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too."
One of the hottest presidential campaigns on record was in 1840 when the Democrats ran Martin Van Buren for re-election, against William Henry Harrison. This candidate, Harrison's running mate was John Tyler. Harrison had lived much in frontier log cabins, so his followers erected log cabins all over the country and created much scandal at the terrific amount of hard cider drunk at political meetings in them.
This campaign was as full of songs as a modern musical comedy. Harrison was famous for his victory over "The Prophet's" Indian army at the battle of Tippecanoe River. The song that pleased the Harrison faction most was this:

What has caused the commotion, 'motion, motion,
Our country people through?
It is the bull-a-rolling out for Tippecanoe and Tyler, too!
Oh, yes, with them we will beat Van! Van is a used-up man!

Let them talk about hard cider, cider, And log cabins, too- It will only speed the ball for Tippecanoe and Tyler, too.

The latch-string hangs outside the door, door, door, And it is never pulled through- For that is not the custom of old Tippecanoe and Tyler, too.

Another favorite song among the Harrison men was this:

That Matty loves the workingman, No workingman can doubt, sirs; For well he doth pursue the plan That turns the workers out, sirs!

He turns them out of Whig employ, He turns them out of bread, sirs; And middlemen doth he annoy, By striking business dead, sirs!

For Matty is a Democrat, Sing, Yankee Doodle Dandy! With spoons of gold and English coach And servants always handy!

ASKS MISS KELLERMAN TO JOIN SWIMMING SCHOOL
The man who carried coal to New castle had nothing on the Los Angeles bathhouse proprietor who sent a circular letter to Annette Kellerman, urging that she enroll in his swimming classes, and pointing out that through aquatic exercises one might hope to avoid the stodgy figure. Miss Kellerman wrote the man telling him that if he could persuade Henry Harnett to join the preliminary sparring classes of the Y. M. C. A. and Lieutenant Omar Locklear to sign up for elementary instruction in simple flying at the Mercury aviation school, she would be glad to matriculate in his swimming academy.
Miss Kellerman will be at the Eltinge theatre on Monday in her modern comedy drama, "What Women Love." A First National attraction.

WITTY WORDINGS ABOUT OLD H. C. OF L.

Even the most serious subjects have their humorous side. Editors throughout the country have penned both serious and humorous paragraphs about the High Cost of Living. Both kinds of writing have been well received by motion picture patrons when shown on the screen in The Literary Digest "Topics of the Day." This time we are touching on the lighter vein and present the following "smile-stuff."

Since my wife started to fight the high cost of living she peels potatoes with my safety razor.—New Orleans (La.) State.

Hair cuts will soon cost so much that they will be performed by surgeons and called operations.—New York World.

We should worry about wearing patches on our pants; advancing prices have us with our backs to the wall, anyway.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Even the children are doing it.—

Following a controversy relative to cattle, it is alleged, the Nonpartisan League editors endeavoring at the time to make political capital out of the deal, State's Attorney Gallagher and Sheriff Pierziza of the county being removed by Governor Frazier, but later being re-instated in office as the state failed to produce evidence showing any neglect of official duty on the part of the two men.

The hearing of the case will begin October 4.

PIONEER MISSIONARY OF TURTLE MOUNTAINS DIES AT ROCHESTER

Dunseith, N. D., Sept. 23.—Word has reached this city of the death of Rev. Wellington Salt at Rochester, Minn., where he had gone for medical treatment.

Mr. Salt was one of the pioneer missionaries of the Turtle Mountain country, having come here from Ontario as a very young man in 1885. At that time the country was practically unsettled and the young minister found the Indian school in an isolated district. He continued in the school and in the same work until recently, when he went to Rochester on account of his health. It is said that a few men understood the "Little girl, will you run to the corner for me? Here is three cents for the errand." "We don't do errands for three cents any more, we get a nickel."—Greenville (S. C.) Piedmont.

Even tombstones have advanced 20 per cent. It's no use, boys, they've got you coming and going.—Bridgeport Telegram.

The day of miracles isn't over. A profiteer can take $150 worth of labor and $180 worth of leather and make a $20 shoe.—Providence Tribune.

An Illinois farmer sold the hide of a calf for $6, then went to town and paid $8.00 for a pair of shoes. Now he knows what a skin game is.—Los Angeles Times.

Almost everybody has boasted prices but the minister. He'll marry you, christen you or bury you as cheap as he ever did. Three cheers for the parson!—San Diego Union.

Indians as did Mr. Salt and few men on the continent of America have exerted so great a Christian influence over them as did he, according to the spoken testimony of those who knew him best.

Rev. Salt leaves a wife and four children, one daughter, Mrs. Tripton Boyd, making her home at Egreland. The deceased was of the Episcopal faith. He was about 55 years old.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Approximately 75 per cent of all war savings stamps sold by the treasury since the outbreak of the war are still retained by investors, according to figures made public by the treasury.

The treasury statement shows that since the government placed the small securities on the market sales have amounted to $116,200,000. Redemptions in the middle of September have aggregated slightly more than $300,000,000.

Berlin scientists have found that yeast, besides being useful in bread and beer, can be made to produce flavoring extracts, a muscle-building tonic and a non-flammable substitute for celluloid.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS HELD

Washington, Sept. 23.—Investigation of coal prices in Kansas began here today under the direction of the new state court of industrial relations.

Subpoenas have been issued for a large number of operators and dealers, Alexander M. Howat, president of the Kansas Mine Workers' union, has been invited by letter to appear at the hearings.

The Masonic Temple and two residences were struck by lightning.

The damage was light and no one was hurt. Rainfall approximating four inches accompanied the storm. It flooded all basements.

Burglars Halted by Electrical Storm

Washington, D. C. Sept. 23.—Generally warm, dry weather was prevalent over all central and most southern districts, which was very favorable for maturing and harvesting of crops. There was some frost in the northeastern and central Rocky Mountain states but the damage was not serious. Soil moisture was mostly sufficient except in a few northwestern and western districts.

The preparation of the soil for the sowing of winter wheat made good progress in the principal grain producing area, except in a few dry localities, and early sown grains germinated quickly.

The weather was very favorable for planting grain. It is now safe to say that the growing season has been a very good one. The crops will be safe to the south in the south and Ohio.

Minnesota and Iowa are the only states where the crops are not safe. The crops are safe in the rest of the country.

COMBINE FORCE OF GENTS FOR "WHISKEY WAR"

Canadian and U. S. Officials
Hold Meeting in Grand Forks and Discuss Plans

HAVE CAR OWNERS NAMES

Grand Forks, Sept. 23.—Formation of a definite plan for putting a stop to whiskey runners operating between Canada and North and South Dakota and Minnesota resulted from an all day conference at Grand Forks between Canadian and American prohibition agents and sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys from several Minnesota and North Dakota counties.

H. L. Duncan of St. Paul, assistant superintendent of prohibition agents in the northwest, and Perry C. Darby head of the department in the Fargo district, conducted the conference.

Although they refuse to discuss the general plan adopted, officials who attended the meeting, admit that steps were taken to establish a line of agents along the international border and a system of close communication between enforcement officials of the dominion and for the states.

EVENTS AND GOSSIP FOR THE FANS

REDS LOSE OUT IN FINISH FOR SECOND PENNANT

Cincinnati, Last Year's Champs.
Eliminated by Losing
Double Header

New York, Sept. 22.—Brooklyn retained its five game lead in the National League pennant race by defeating Boston yesterday afternoon, while New York was taking the final game of the season with the Chicago Cubs. Cincinnati was eliminated from the race by losing two games to Pittsburgh.

INDIAN-SOX GAME
Cleveland, O., Sept. 22.—The Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox, pennant contenders, runners up respectively in the American league pennant race for the first of a three-game series upon which it is believed the pennant depends, Cleveland was leading Chicago by one and a half games. If Cleveland takes two games it is regarded as almost certain that the Indians have the flag won. They have only 11 more games to play, three with Chicago, four with St. Louis and four with Detroit. If they can win eight of these the White Sox must win the eight games remaining on their schedule to tie the local team. Cleveland has won its last seven games and Chicago its last six. Both teams benefited by a rest yesterday, and entered today's contest in fine physical condition and confident of victory. Previous to today's game Cleveland had won 11 of 19 games in which the two teams have met this year.

RACE DRIVER UNDER KNIFE

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Thomas W. Murphy, grand circuit race driver, underwent an operation for appendicitis here. His condition is reported favorable. He was stricken at the state fair grounds track here yesterday just before the start of the races.

SCOTT KEEPS ON WITH MARK

Detroit, Sept. 22.—Everett Scott, Boston American shortstop, added the 66th to his string of consecutive games played, when he appeared in the Boston line-up for three and one-half innings in the game with Detroit, before being banished from the field by Umpire Owen for protesting a play too vehemently.

CORNELL CAPTAIN PEEVED AT PROFS

Ithaca, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Cornell university football team prospects sustained a blow today with the written announcement by John Shuler, captain and fullback, that he will not play in the season. Shuler gave as his reason disappointment at the treatment which he declares was accorded him by the faculty of the college of arts and sciences by whom he was placed on probation because of his work last term. He entered the university in 1916 and made the freshman team, but left school to enter the navy. He returned to school last fall and played fullback on the varsity eleven and was elected captain.

GOLFERS OF FARGO CLUB IN CONTESTS

Fargo, Sept. 22.—The last of the season's golf games in the Fargo Country club men's handicap tourney was played when Bernard defeated Morris, 4 up 3 to play. Bernard is now matched to play Will Magill in the third round. Other games have not been played because of untoward weather conditions and the fact that the lure of hunting has kept several of the players out of the city. In the women's handicap tourney, the first play resulted in the elimination of Mrs. William Magill and Mrs. William Bristol. In next week's play, three will be eliminated, while the week following, four will be eliminated, leaving the final play between a field of eight contestants.

SWEDISH RUNNER BEATS RAY.

Stockholm, Sept. 22.—Jole Ray, the Illinois runner, was beaten today by S. Lundgren by 20 yards in a 1,500 meter race. The time was four minutes five seconds.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 8114 Marcellus Avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 22.—Jack Johnson, former heavy weight champion, brought here to serve a sentence of a year and a day for violating the Mann act, has been made orderly of the prison on baseball park. His duties are to keep the athletic grounds in good condition. Later on, according to the warden, he will be made director of athletics.

RISKS $100,000.00 LEGS AT FOOTBALL

St. Paul, Sept. 22.—Because he is the world's amateur skating champion, Everett McGowan of St. Paul has a pair of legs that are generally valued as high as $100,000, but McGowan himself doesn't mind risking his precious "pedestals" though he has them insured. With a chance to meet Oscar Mathiesen, who took the world's professional skating title from Bobby McLean, and other lucrative engagements in the offing, McGowan cannot shake off that "football fever" and yesterday reported to Coach Bert Eckberg at St. Thomas and donned the mokeskins. He hopes to play halfback on the Cougars eleven again this year.

ASKED TO LOSE GAME, PITCHER ASSERTS TODAY

Rube Benton, New York Giant
Hurley, Names Buck Herzog
and Hal Chase in Deal

Chicago, Sept. 22.—"Rube" Benton, New York National League club pitcher, who arrived today to testify before the grand jury investigating reports of "fixed" baseball games asserts in a signed statement published by the Journal that Charles (Buck) Herzog and Hal Chase proposed to him that he lose the last game the Giants played in Chicago last year. The Journal quotes Benton as saying that after the Giants won 6 to 3, Helme Zimmerman, who had been suspended the night before, is said to have stopped Benton in a hotel lobby and said:

"You poor fish. Don't you know there was $400 waiting for you to lose that game today."

Benton will appear before the grand jury.
